Renowned Nonfiction Writing Workshop Comes to Tulsa

The Woodhull Institute's renowned "Raise Your Voice" nonfiction writing workshop is coming to the University of Tulsa campus March 6 and 7. Nationally prominent nonfiction professionals will show participants how to write editorials, opinion pieces, magazine articles and nonfiction book proposals that get noticed and get published. Participants receive writing instruction, one-on-one critique, and fundamental knowledge about blogging and publishing.

Authors and journalists Barbara Victor ("Army of Roses: Inside the World of Palestinian Women Suicide Bombers"), Catherine Orenstein ("Little Red Riding Hood Uncloaked: Sex, Morality, and the Evolution of a Fairy Tale"), and Melissa Walker ("Violet by Design") will be leading Tulsa workshop sessions on topics including book proposals, feature writing, editorial writing, and the blogosphere.

Alumnae of this seminar now write for "The New York Times," "Washington Post," "Boston Globe," "Huffington Post," "Salon," "Bitch Magazine," "Glamour," "Christian Science Monitor," and many others.

Registration costs are $295 ($25 for current University of Tulsa students).
